NEWTON NURSERIES

Newton, Mississippi

J. R. WOODHAM AND SONS.

FALL OF 1925—SPRING OF 1926.

Our stock this season is equal to the high quality maintained in the past, By rapid and constant cultivation our stock has withstood the drought of the past summer and is now in splendid condition.

We stated in last year's catalog that we would discontinue growing all ornamentals but the demand for these was so heavy and our customers so insistent that we have grown about the usual amount of all shrubbery, evergreens, shades roses etc., and are now prepared to fill orders the same as in the past.

Prices are as low as any nursery can make. They remain the same throughout the season. Our prices are positively the same to each and every customer. No discounts will be made to anyone.
